Global Fertilizer Day is October 13

At TradeMark Nitrogen we are excited to be celebrating Global Fertilizer Day on Oct 13 and remain committed to supporting the worlds farmers! We recognize the dedicated men and women who work in the fertilizer industry to ensure the nation's farmers continue feeding the globe.

The Haber-Bosch process on synthesis of ammonia from air in 1908 laid the early foundation of the modern fertilizer industry. Today science-based programs like the 4R program assist farmers in fertilizer best management practices that offer improved environmental protection, increased production, improved farmer profitability and increased sustainability. The 4rs concept is use the right fertilizer source, at the right rate, at the right time, and in the right place.
